(b) Discussion of programs relating to juvenile information networks as an Internet-based communication tool that assists with case management of juvenile offenders in the area. (c) Discussion of the possibility of implementing a program modeled after the ‘Wisconsin citizenship initiative’ to collaborate with the before- or after-school programs offered under the authority of this act. (d) Exploration of the option of a summit conducted via the internet to discuss measures relating to the prevention and intervention of at-risk youth. (e) Discussion of California’s eight percent early intervention’ program that focuses on aggressive early intervention and treatment of young, high at-risk juvenile offenders and their families. (f) Multisystem therapy. (g) Youth services projects. (h) Community services projects.*

Recommendations (a), (c), (e), (f), (g), and (h) were topics at the Balanced and Restorative Justice conference held by the department in May, 2004.
